

Dear Customer,

Subject: REACH Regulation 1907/2006 and its amendments

We are writing in response to your request received.

We are well aware of the REACH regulation and of its various aims. We have drawn up a REACH action plan, to ensure that all of our obligations are met and are in permanent contact with our suppliers on this very important subject.

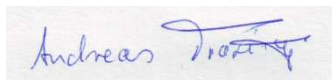

We note that you ask us to ensure that the materials we use do not contain SVHC. Whilst we understand your wish to avoid the use of such substances, we would respectfully point out that some of those on the current list are actually authorised in plastics destined to come into contact with food ((EU) 10/2011 and its amendments). As this key legislation is part of our current regulatory policy, we cannot guarantee the total absence of SVHC. However, as producers of articles, we do have a duty to communicate the presence of SVHC at greater than 0.1% (w/w) in accordance with Article 33 of REACH.

None of our suppliers has notified us of the presence of any of the substances on the latest candidate list, published July 7th, 2017, in a concentration above 0.1% w/w. In the event of subsequent notification of the existence of one of these substances above the said concentration, we will inform you immediately of the specific products involved that are supplied to you.

Furthermore, we confirm that Aptar Freyung & Ckyne:

- does not add any of these substances during its manufacturing process
- does not manufacture articles which contain substances intended to be released under normal or reasonably foreseeable conditions of use.

We trust that this answers your questions but should you require any further information, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Andreas Traxinger

REACH Coordination Team Aptar Freyung & Ckyne

Romana Letkova

Disclaimer:

This document is confidential and only disclosed to a limited number of recipients, who are also obliged to keep such information confidential. Aptar's obligations with respect to its products are governed solely by its standard terms and conditions for sale, which are hereby incorporated by reference, or by the particular agreements or contracts under which the products are provided. Aptar manufactures its products to meet its standard specifications and does not guarantee that its products meet other specifications not previously agreed upon in writing. All information contained herein is provided without any promise, representation, or warranty, express or implied, of any kind, including - without limitation - any warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose or non-infringement of any intellectual property rights. Any reliance on the information contained herein shall be at your own risk. All title, ownership rights and intellectual property rights in and relating to this document including but not limited to confidential information, know-how, drawings and concepts remain the property of AptarGroup, Inc., and/or its direct or indirect subsidiaries (collectively "Aptar").